Blessing
of the Backpacks

For many families this August means school is back in session! Here at Trinity, on Sunday, August 15, we want to celebrate and bless the beginning of another school year.

Students, preschool through adult, have your backpacks, lunch boxes, or briefcases at the Zoom service. We will bless them as we begin a new school year.

Also that Sunday we will be recognizing our Acolytes. Please plan to join us and tell them a big Thank You for their service.

From our Rector

.....The Rev. Jeannie Martz

Summer is usually a pretty peaceful time around the Trinity campus, but these days things are anything but peaceful. In the last two weeks, the 1970's era HVAC units have been removed from behind the nave and in the parish hall, ducts have been cleaned, additional concrete pads have been poured – and just last Wednesday, working from the St. Paul's parking lot next door, a huge crane lifted the nave's four new HVAC units up and over the back fence and the units were secured into place on the pads. (Check out the photo!)

Two new 10 ton units and two new 7.5 ton units now adorn the space behind the church and work has begun on necessary upgrades to our electrical wiring. Unfortunately, as can happen – and usually does – we've hit a timing snag in terms of having the new units operational for the Bishop's upcoming visit on Sunday. We're needing to pull more wire than we had expected between the units and our circuit panel, which is resulting in a delay in the installation. Time to dress comfortably, think cool thoughts, and pray that those lovely Sunday morning cross breezes continue!

Speaking of Sundays, the young people who are being confirmed this Sunday (Declan Anderson, Simone Bilodeau, Austin Carey, Dubem Elendu, Uzo Elendu, Arianna Jaime, and Emma Sosa) had their final CnC class last Sunday afternoon. (Check out the other photo.)

In the presence of parents and mentors, each student read a passage from Scripture that they had chosen and found personally meaningful. The students had worked together with their mentors to identify and narrow down several possible passages, each a minimum of 10 verses in length. Each student made their final choice and then also prepared a presentation telling us why/how they chose their passage, why it meant something to them, and a bit about the passage's location in the Bible and its history.

What an impressive group of young people! Each of them took the assignment seriously, each was open and authentic about the passage's importance to them, and each one took our collective breath away. Congratulations, parents – and thank you to the mentors as well.

On a different note, several folks have been asking about when we'll return to a two-service Sunday morning format. There are a couple of ways to answer this question – one that has to do with environmental science and one that has to do with our own summer patterns.

From the science perspective, two of the key issues are ventilation and the frequency of the space's usage. According to our parish professional safety and environmental experts, we need to be able to have four complete air changes in the nave between uses. Once our new equipment is in place, this may be doable in the hour in between services. Needless to say, the Reopening Committee is still in conversation and we will keep you posted.

The summer pattern answer is that attendance is lower in the summer, so one hybrid (online and in-person) service followed by drive through Communion is continuing to serve us well.

Look for us to stick with one service through the summer. Come Labor Day and after, hopefully we can return to two services on Sunday – and we'll see about Thursday and Saturday as well. As I said, we'll keep you posted!

TIED UP IN KNOTS? OUTREACH BLANKET PROJECT

The Outreach Commission would like to give a BIG Shout Out to everyone at Trinity who supported Tied Up In Knots, our blanket tying event. With the support of those tying blankets both in person and at home along with the donations for covering the cost of supplies, we were able to donate 100 blankets and a $1,000 donation to YANA. This provides a big, warm hug to patients going through chemotherapy. Thank you so much for your support!

PARISH DINE OUT

One bite of a Charburger will transport you to a place where cool ocean breezes sweep gently through majestic green palm fronds, and a time when two enterprising young brothers established what it means to RESPECT the BURGER. We are returning to a favorite, The Habit in the Village of Orange. Enjoy not only the charburger, but sandwiches, salads, shakes and malts. The date is THURSDAY JULY 22 FROM 11am-10pm. Come join us and help Outreach meet their 2021 goals. Look for flyers in your Sunday bulletins.

Early morning removal of old air conditioning units.
On with the new!
